Highlights

- Glucocorticoid-induced obesity is thought to be due to decreased UCP1 expression
- Only at thermoneutrality do glucocorticoids lower UCP1 amounts
- Glucocorticoid-induced obesity develops to the same extent with or without UCP1
- Enhanced food intake cannot fully explain glucocorticoid-induced obesity

Monitoring open access publishing costs at Stockholm University

Author: Lisa Lovén ✉

Abstract

Stockholm University Library (SUB) has been tracking the University's open access (OA) publishing costs within the local accounting system since 2016. The objective is to gain an overview of the costs and to use this as a basis for decisions about how to proceed in order to support the transition to OA at Stockholm University. This article explains the reasons behind using the workflow the 2017 cost both the current on this topic
